

United States Mint Set to Release American Liberty High Relief Gold Coin on July 30

July 16, 2015

WASHINGTON — The United States Mint will open sales for the 2015 American Liberty High Relief Gold Coin (product code UH8) on July 30 at noon Eastern Daylight Time (EDT).

The coin's obverse (heads side) design depicts a "modern" Liberty, portrayed standing, crowned with leaves, holding the American flag and a torch. Inscriptions are "Liberty," "In God We Trust," and "2015." The obverse was designed by United States Mint Artistic Infusion Program (AIP) artist Justin Kunz and sculpted by United States Mint Sculptor-Engraver Phebe Hemphill.

The coin's reverse (tails side) design depicts an American eagle rising in flight, gripping a branch in its talons. Inscriptions are "UNITED STATES OF AMERICA," "E Pluribus Unum," "1 OZ.," ".9999 FINE GOLD." and "ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS." The reverse was designed by AIP artist Paul C. Balan and sculpted by United States Mint Sculptor-Engraver Don Everhart.

Each coin is encapsulated and packaged in a black, satin lined, velvet presentation case. A certificate of authenticity is included. Mintage is set at 50,000 coins. Orders will be limited to 50 units per household.

Orders will be accepted at the bureau's online catalog at <https://catalog.usmint.gov/coins/gold-coins/> and at 1-800-USA-MINT (872-6468). Hearing- and speech-impaired customers with TTY equipment may order by calling 1-888-321-MINT (6468). About the United States Mint

The United States Mint was created by Congress in 1792 and became part of the Department of the Treasury in 1873. It is the nation's sole manufacturer of legal tender coinage and is responsible for producing circulating coinage for the nation to conduct its trade and commerce. The United States Mint also produces numismatic products, including proof, uncirculated, and commemorative coins; Congressional Gold Medals; and silver and gold bullion coins. The United States Mint's numismatic programs are self-sustaining and operate at no cost to taxpayers.

Note: To ensure that all members of the public have fair and equal access to United States Mint products, orders placed prior to the official on-sale date and time of July 30, 2015, at noon EDT, shall not be deemed accepted by the United States Mint and will not be honored.
